Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If no period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).

Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

1) Responsive to communication(s) filed on 29 August 2008.

2a) This action is FINAL. 2b) This action is non-final.

3) Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, in public use, or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1/3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pinkerton US 5,302,874 A [Pinkerton].
2. Regarding claim 1, at [figs. 1-8] Pinkerton teaches an annular permanent magnet [38/40] divided in a circumferential direction thereof at at least one location to form a radially extending slit [between segments of elements 38 and 40], the radially extending slit defined by opposing faces of the magnet [38/40], and an annular binding band [12] surrounding the annular permanent magnet [38/40], wherein the opposing faces of the magnet are not in contact with each other [fig. 7].
3. Regarding claim 3, wherein the permanent magnet [38/40] is divided in a circumferential direction thereof at multiple locations [fig. 7] to form multiple radially extend slits [between segments of elements 38 and 40] and a plurality of spaced apart segments [N/S] and the plurality of the spaced apart segments [N/S] are not in contact with adjacent segments [segments N/S are spaced apart].
4. Regarding claim 4, wherein the locations are distributed regularly around a periphery of the permanent magnet [38/40].

5. Regarding claim 5, wherein the bearing element comprises multiple permanent magnets [38/40] arranged concentrically with one another, all of which are divided at least one location [fig. 7] and spaced apart there.
6. Regarding claim 6, wherein the radially extending slit [between segments of elements 38 and 40] of one of the multiple permanent magnets [38/40] is offset [offset could mean an agent, element, or thing that balances, counteracts, or compensates for something else] from the radially extending slit of another one of the multiple permanent magnets [38/40] in the circumferential direction [fig. 7].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pinkerton as applied to claim 1 above, in view of Koenig US 6,250,577 B1 [Koenig].
8. Regarding Claim 7, Pinkerton discloses the claimed invention except for that the annular binding band is made from a carbon-fiber material. Koenig teaches that it is known to use the carbon-fiber material as an insert or as binding band as set forth at [c. 2, I. 30-37 and c. 3, I. 6-12]. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Pinkerton's bearing composed of a carbon-fiber material insert or binding as taught by Koenig since carbon-fiber materials are known to be used as bearing surface as disclosed in the [abstract].

Moreover, it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1/3-7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
